

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Contact: Alethea Cox
acox@buildinghopetoday.org
208-520-5300

Matt Morgan Honored at Idaho's Hometown Hero Medal Ceremony
Medal of Honor received by co-founder of Building Hope Today

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho – September 9, 2017 – JRM Foundation for Humanity presented Matt Morgan with the Idaho Hometown Hero Medal of Honor on September 9, 2017 at the medal ceremony in Pocatello, Idaho. Matt received the award for his leadership in the community and his creation of the non-profit Building Hope Today along with his wife Lynne Morgan.

Idaho's Hometown Hero Medal recognizes individuals that embody the spirit of philanthropy and have shown a remarkable commitment to creating better communities across the state of Idaho. Matt received the Medal of Honor along with ten other honorees.

"This is a true honor to receive an award and recognition of this magnitude from the JRM Foundation," said Matt Morgan, co-founder of Building Hope Today. "My only hope is to help children and adults that are survivors of sexual abuse to begin the healing process. If my story and Building Hope today can help these survivors understand that they are not alone and that it is not their fault that these things happened to them, I will have done my job."

For more information about Building Hope Today and Matt's story, visit www.buildinghopetoday.org.

---

About Building Hope Today

Building Hope Today is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization founded in 2017. Building Hope Today works to raise awareness of the prevalence of childhood sexual abuse, reveal its lasting effects, and safeguard those at risk on the path toward a hope-filled tomorrow. If you or someone you know needs help, please visit www.buildinghopetoday.org or call 208-524-0400.